Making Hot Chocolate Activities Freebie

If you want to engage your students and get them excited about winter, as well as reading and sequencing, try these hot chocolate activities. Your students are sure to love them!

First, read over the "recipe" with your class. Next, you can have them read it to you, or some of the students, as you/they complete the tasks.

Note: A gallon of chocolate milk heated in a crock pot makes great hot chocolate. Just heat, add marshmallows and serve. You'll just need to figure out how much milk you'll need for your class and how long it will need to heat since these things vary. And it really only needs to be good and warm. 😊

Last, have the students complete the sequencing page by cutting out the sentences at the bottom of the page and gluing them in order in the table at the top of the page. Students who need assistance can use the recipe for help.

I hope you and your students enjoy using these activities. If you find an error or you have questions or suggestions, please email me at southernems@comcast.net.

Thanks!

Cindy
